Direct transfer agreements (DTA) are statewide articulated transfer degree agreements between the community colleges and public baccalaureate universities. When admitted to a university, students will enter at junior standing. Admission to a university or its College or School of Business is NOT guaranteed to students holding a Business Transfer DTA/MRP degree. Some institutions have requirements for admission to the major that go beyond those required for admission to the university. It is highly recommended that students meet with an academic advisor on a regular basis to be sure that requirements specified in the degree are met. Students should also seek academic advising from the university to which they plan to transfer to learn about additional requirements, procedures for admission, and GPA requirements.
